Club Update...From the Committee.

Hi everyone.

The Club Open Day was a great success with 120 members signed up so far. If you know of any friends and family who are keen to join, give them a nudge to get their membership in and make sure yours is sorted by October 16th – Which lucky membership will win the AquaZition Rod and Trinidad reel set?

At the open day there were raffles and spot prizes, the casting competition was great fun for the kids resulting in some good skills being shown and prizes being won.

Many great events and prizes instore for the coming season.

With the new season underway we can now start measuring our fish and send in the photos to get the competition underway. And we are off to a great start with a few snapper starting to show up in the bay.

Remember to photograph your fish on the measure board with the membership card clearly visible. Photos must be emailed through before 6pm on the last day of each month to be counted, or they will be entered into the following month.

Whitebait done differently...

Every body who catches, buys or is given whitebait (yeah right!) has their own tried and true method for whitebait patties. Some swear by adding a little flour to the mix, others consider that near on treason. Myself, I've found 5 eggs and a little salt and pepper to be the perfect ratio to 1lb of whitebait 😊.

However, in some restaurants they do whitebait quite differently and deliciously. Each individual whitebait has its own crispy coating, perfect for nibbling one at a time with a cold drink, or layered on top of a slice of fresh bread and butter.

Either way, give this simple recipe a try if you have access to any white gold this season – enjoy!

Recipe

Whitebait

1/2c self raising flour

1/4c cornflour

Salt & Pepper

Butter

Oil

Place the flours and salt & pepper in a clean plastic bag (a freezer bag is ideal). Drain the whitebait well then drop small handfuls into the flour mix. Shake well to coat the whitebait then remove onto a plate. Repeat with remaining whitebait.

Heat butter and oil in a pan on moderate to high heat. When hot, turn down to medium then add whitebait to the pan. You don't want to overcrowd the pan so the temp stays up and they get crispy. They wont take long, so do a few batches, removing from the pan onto another dish. Add more butter and oil when needed – the oil helps to stop the butter from browning.

Serve with fresh bread and butter, with a salad or just on their own with a squeeze of lemon.
